

U. N. CREATES BALKAN WATCH TO KEEP PEACE

Assembly Votes, 40 to 6;
Russia and Satellites
Refuse to Serve on Unit

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—An overwhelming majority of the United Nations assembly backed the United States and Britain against Russia today and created an 11-member U. N. commission to watch over the Balkans.

The vote was 40 to 6. Eleven nations abstained.

The Russians seized notice for the second time in this assembly that although elected to membership on the Balkan watch they would have nothing to do with this new U. N. body. This added another to a string of U. N. organizations which the Soviet Union has declined to join.

The western powers scored two other smashing victories:

1. The assembly rejected a Polish resolution demanding immediate recall of all foreign military personnel and missions in Greece. This was aimed directly at the United States and Britain. The vote was 34 to 7.

2. The assembly rejected a Soviet resolution calling for withdrawal of foreign troops from Greece and for establishing a commission to supervise economic aid—such as provided under the Truman program—to that country. The vote was 41 to 6.

The Russian bloc voted alone on two roll calls. Egypt joined it on the Polish resolution. Delegates recalled that Egypt has a demand pending in the Security Council for the immediate withdrawal of British troops from her territory.

The assembly directed that the commission be made up of the five great powers—the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China—plus Australia, Brazil, Mexico, The Netherlands, Pakistan and Poland.

Poland announced she would not serve on the commission but the assembly specifically reserved seats for both Russia and Poland.

Keep Civil Rights, Senator Pepper Tells Hollywood Witnesses

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) today counseled movie witnesses to refuse to answer if the House Un-American Activities committee asks questions which "censor" thinking or speech.

Pepper, who is not connected with the committee's investigation of Communist influences in Hollywood, told reporters that he had talked with Bartley C. Crum and Robert W. Kenny, attorneys who represent 19 of the witnesses called to testify.

"I told them," Pepper said in an interview, "that witnesses should tell the House committee 'I'm an American and it's none of your business about what I say, think, and write.'"

A reporter asked if this would not bring a charge of contempt of Congress.

Appointment of Chaplains For Fire Dept. Considered

In response to a suggestion made by the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, the Pottstown fire department may appoint chaplains to act at second and third alarm fires to comfort firemen and others who may be injured.

Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, upon receipt of the Rev. Frantz's letter, yesterday said he will follow the suggestion. At present, the Rev. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, is chaplain of the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company. Lindauer said a Catholic priest and a Jewish rabbi also will be appointed.

"In the event of a big fire," Lindauer said, "we may have loss of life or seriously injured persons and the presence of chaplains would be most comforting."

Forest Blaze Ebbs in Maine; Cottages Razed

GOOSE ROCKS BEACH, Me., Oct. 21 (AP)—A roaring forest fire appears to have been halted tonight as it swept toward Kennebunkport village after destroying nearly 200 dwellings, most of them summer cottages, at Goose Rocks, Cape Porpoise and the Wildes district.

Back fires appeared to have halted the flames as they approached Kennebunkport village, home of nationally famous artists and authors.

The fire-ravaged sections are all districts in the township of Kennebunkport.

The burned area runs along the Maine coast for about five miles from Goose Rocks Beach at the north to the edges of Kennebunkport village to the south.

A veritable army of fire fighters with apparatus drawn from communities within a 25-mile radius battled the blaze, the most serious of 40 forest fires that flared up throughout the State.

The drought-parched woodlands of New Hampshire, Vermont, New York and New Jersey were dotted with forest fires, but the situation in Maine was by far the most serious.

Forest Commissioner Raymond E. Rendall described the fire in this area as "an entirely explosive situation never before recorded in the history of fire danger in the state."

PLANE SECRETS GIVEN TO REDS

Hollywood Critic Tells Congressmen at Hearing
Communists Tricked Pilot

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—Testimony that secrets of America's newest, supersonic plane went straight to Communist party headquarters in New York gave a surprise twist today to an uproarious congressional hearing on subversive influence in Hollywood.

The story of alleged espionage, told by movie critic John C. Moffitt, all but stole the spotlight from Actor Adolphe Menjou who testified that there are "many, many dangerous directors and actors" in the West Coast movie industry.

Moffitt asserted that the FBI now has the plane-secrets case under investigation, but FBI headquarters had no comment tonight.

The witness testified that John Weber, head of the literary department of the William Morris Theatrical agency in Hollywood, and others "with strong leftist leanings," tricked Chalmers "Slick" Goodlin into writing a story about his experiences in flying the air force's new supersonic speed plane, the XS-1.

Moffitt said Goodlin at first protested that although he was a civilian test pilot, he was under military supervision and that anything he wrote would have to be approved by military intelligence.

"Then Weber told Goodlin, 'why, of course, but first let us see what you can write and we'll see if it is practical for publication,'" Moffitt continued.

"The young pilot (Goodlin) was foolish enough to comply. He gave them a story, an article containing much confidential information."

Moffitt said Weber got the

Patrolman's Counsel To Open Court Action In Suspension Case

Court action in the case of Patrolman Michael Shanta, of the Pottstown police, who was suspended for five days without pay by Burgess William A. Griffith, is expected to begin today with the filing of a petition with the Court of Common Pleas.

Attorney James R. Caiola, Norristown, who is representing Shanta, said yesterday he expects to file a petition asking that all the records in the case be brought in. The court also is asked to determine whether the Pottstown Civil Service Commission has jurisdiction in the case and is qualified to sit on a hearing of the charges.

The borough will have 15 days in which to answer the petition, Caiola added.

He pointed out that this is the first time a case of this type has been brought before the court. The judges, he said, will sit en banc to hear the case and render a decision.

Shanta was suspended by Burgess Griffith on Sept. 11 on charges of neglect of duty and disobedience of orders issued by Sgt. Daniel J. Linton. An appeal for an open hearing on the charges before the commission failed when the members of the commission were advised by C. Edmund Wells, borough solicitor, that they did not have jurisdiction in the case.

Stench From Fourth Ward Run Riles Residents; Borough Promises Action

The odor from this stream has brought complaints to the State and to the borough for the past 20 years from Fourth ward residents of South Washington street, who must seal themselves in their homes as protection against the choking fumes. Little Theresa Harmonski, 457 Cherry street, points to the littered stream bed of Hubley's Run where several small children have been seen to drink the slimy, scum-filled water. The sanitary committee of the borough council will meet to try to eliminate the condition as a result of a petition submitted at the last council meeting.

READING, Oct. 21 (AP)—Three parole violators and a fourth man, all awaiting trial, tonight scaled a 20-foot wall and escaped from the Berks county prison.

Those who escaped and still at large, according to police officials, are: Charles Dion, 28, Reading, a parole violator from Eastern penitentiary; Robert Jalbert, 24, Biddeford, Me., a parole violator from South Reformatory, Windham, Me. who was being held on a burglary and larceny charge; Donald Nickerson, alias Harold Curtis, 24, South Windham, Me., a parole violator from the same place as Jalbert and also an escapee from the Chicago State mental hospital, Dunning, Ill. and Earl Youse, 19, Reading, charged with larceny of a car.

Prison officials said the men made good their escape by forcing open a heavy double door leading off the prison's main corridor where other inmates were loitering after the evening meal, and slipping quietly into the weave room.

83-Degree Record For Day Equaled; Heat to Remain

Bright skies and a hot sun sent the temperature soaring to 83 degrees yesterday afternoon, equalling the all-time heat record for the date, set in 1920.

With a low percentage of humidity accompanying the Indian Summer weather, the discomforts of heat were absent and Pottstonians strolled about comfortably in shirt sleeves and thin dresses.

Yesterday was the first time that the October heat record was equaled, although the warm days of the past two weeks often have brought the mercury within a very few degrees of the mark.

Warm and sunny weather will be around today and tomorrow, the weatherman prophesies, with a slight drop in the temperature scheduled for Friday and Saturday.

The temperature will average ten degrees above normal for the remainder of the week.

Infantry History Told by Officers At Meetings of Guard Members

Talks by two Army majors from Reading and a Pottstown lieutenant on the history of infantry divisions and efficiency reports highlighted meetings of National Guard units held last night in the YMCA building.

Maj. William C. Bowen, unit instructor for the 904th Field artillery battalion, addressed Battery A of the 94th, tracing the history of the divisions from the Roman phalanx through the British square and the modern organization first developed by the Spaniards.

He added that the triangular division developed before World War II had been modified by the Army with the addition of a tank battalion and increased emphasis on mobility and fire power.

First Lt. Leon C. MacMullen, who recently returned from a tour of duty at an artillery school at Fort Sill, Okla., said that in the future, the Army will have a

FFA Members Guests At Kiwanis Meeting

Members of the Future Farmers of America and of the 4-H club were guests at the Pottstown Kiwanis club meeting, held last night in the Elks home, to hear Guy H. Newcomb, vice president of the Pennsylvania Hereford Breeders' association, condemn the government's eat-less-meat program.

An active Hereford breeder himself, Newcomb declared that more production, rather than curtailed purchasing, will provide the solution to the food situation, at home and abroad.

The speaker showed color films made by his association, presenting various aspects of the breeding industry.

FLAMES SWEEP PINE FORGE AREA

Firemen Help Members
Of Institute Battle Blaze;
65 Acre Tract Burned

Faculty members and students of Pine Forge Institute yesterday joined firemen from Pottstown and Haverhill to fight a stubborn blaze that swept over 65 acres of woodland on the school grounds before it was extinguished.

The fire, which fed on grass and timber dried out by a month-long drought, broke out Sunday afternoon in a large wooded tract west of the stone school building and the home of a caretaker, Gordon Hafer.

Believed extinguished Sunday, the flames re-appeared again yesterday with renewed intensity.

The Rev. J. A. Moran president of the school, again marshaled his fire fighting forces but the flames continued to gain headway and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a second alarm was sounded at the Mt. Penn fire tower sounded an alarm when dense columns of smoke were seen issuing from the woods.

District Fire Warden William H. S. Meyer, of 22 East Fourth street, Pottstown, Fire Warden Charles Hunter of Huff's Church, and Warden Monroe Moser, of Hill Church, assembled a group of 30 men and assisted by the Friendsburg Hook and Ladder company of Berwyn, they added the forces of the Rev. Moran.

The fire at its height swept over a tract about one mile wide and came within 500 feet of the Hafer home. There was no property damage. Last night an all-night vigil was kept by students at the school. Meyer last night paid tribute to the efforts of the school attaches in fighting the fire.

At 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine company, made a run to Tysons Corner where a grass and brush fire was burning in a field at the southeast corner of the intersection of Route 100 and the road leading toward Cedarville.

Firemen used 150 feet of booster hose to reach the fire.

CHEST WORKERS OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS HERE

'Need Determines Appeal,'
Philadelphia Attorney Tells
Red Feather Volunteers

With the slogan "Everybody benefits; everybody gives," more than 100 volunteer workers opened the 17th annual Pottstown Community Chest in the YMCA last night at a dinner meeting.

They heard the chairman of the fund-raising committee voice their optimism in the drive for $18,971, and listened to Harold L. Saylor, a Philadelphia attorney and former resident of Pottstown, declare:

"The needs of these 11 agencies determine what you should ask for, not what you think you might act."

Saylor, who is also active in the current Philadelphia Community Chest campaign for nearly nine million dollars, pointed out the increased costs of the agencies who are aided by the Chest.

He emphasized that not only must the volunteers try to solicit larger sums from regular contributors, but that the base must be widened—more than the $800 Pottstown contributors of 1946 must give this year, if the goal is to be met.

"We all have a stake in these agencies," the speaker maintained. "Their existence insures help in the development of our children, and in our safety and welfare. These institutions are part of our daily lives; they are not objects of charity."

"We must let the other people in Pottstown know why we're here tonight," he continued. "We must get them to assist us according to their financial ability."

A contribution does not represent aid for one day, Saylor emphasized, but is a person's donation to 11 agencies for an entire year's work.

"I impress upon the people their duty and their privilege to contribute to these organizations that help their fellow-citizens as well as themselves," Saylor urged his audience.

He concluded, "Anyone who participated in this campaign is taking part in something greater than himself; he is setting for himself a task that goes more for him than the time and effort expended represent. More than just raising money, he is functioning as a real, conscientious American citizen."

Victor J. Roberts, president of the Community Chest, opened the dinner meeting by stating the three outstanding elements of the drive—the large budget; the enthusiasm of the chairman, William H. Curtis, and the abilities of the committee chairman, whom he introduced to the workers.

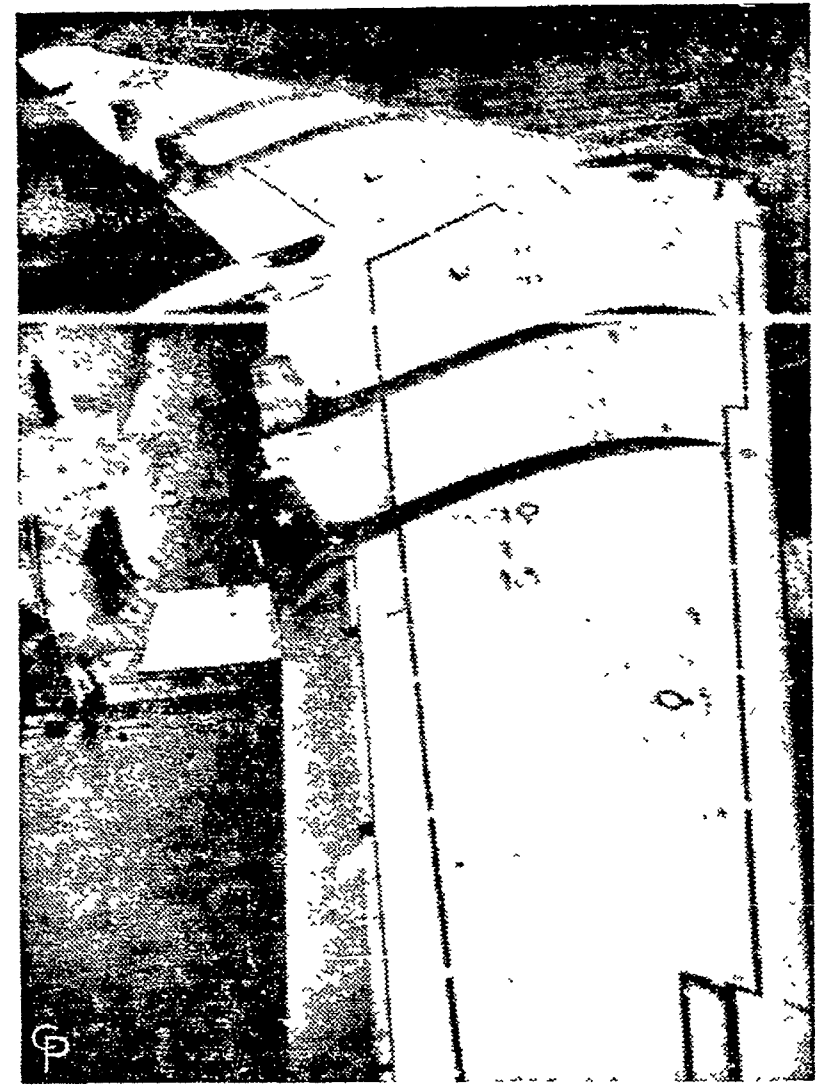

They included Mrs. James I. Wendell, Women's division; Jacob R. Satter, classified teams; H. L. Christman, industrial division; Charles J. Custer, advance girls; John M. Howard, publicity committee, and the Rev. George A. Linaker, pastor of Christ Episcopal church, speakers' committee.

Roberts explained that Arthur K. Switzer, chairman of the budget committee, was too ill to attend the meeting.

With the chairman, the president presided to the audience Burgess William A

Subcommittees Get Chance To Solve HolyLand Dispute

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 21 (AP)—The United Nations 37-member Palestine committee approved overwhelmingly tonight an Australian proposal to establish three special subcommittees which will comprise the machinery for working out a final solution of the Holy Land problem.

Procedural debate lasting three and a half hours began when Dr. Herbert V. Eviatt of Australia, chairman of the Palestine committee, suggested setting up three groups to study different aspects of the problem.

When the proposal was put to a vote before the committee adjourned until 11 a. m. tomorrow, the members unanimously adopted Eviatt's first proposal to set up a subcommittee on conciliation wherein Arabs and Jews would confer in an effort to settle their differences.

A second subcommittee to study the details of a plan for implementing the partition scheme was approved 35 to 0, with 8 abstentions.

A third subcommittee to study Arab country proposals for an independent Arab nation in the Holy Land was approved 34 to 10, with 6 abstentions.

A Soviet proposal sought to have the committee decide first on which suggested solution it would use as a basis for its debate, either the partition plan which was recommended in the majority report of the U. N. Special Committee on Palestine, or the Arab-supported plan to make Palestine an independent Arab nation.

Russia suggested that with that point settled the committee then could appoint one subcommittee to decide how the plan could be implemented. The Russians were defeated, 26 to 14.

Taft's Decision Expected Friday

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21 (AP)—Ohio Republican headquarters disclosed today Sen. Robert A. Taft will make public his presidential candidacy decision next Friday.

The announcement, said party headquarters, will be contained in a letter to State Republican Chairman Fred H. Johnson—with the text to be released simultaneously in Columbus and in Washington.

While Ohio GOP leaders were making this disclosure, Taft told the junior Chamber of Commerce in Cincinnati that Congress will pass a tax reduction bill when it convenes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—President Truman sent a hurried call today for a meeting with Congress leaders Thursday on European Winter aid and well-placed Administration sources predicted a special session will be discussed.

The President wishes to explore further the possibility of an agreement on the desirability for an early meeting of the lawmakers, two high-ranking White House aides said.

Mr. Truman did not wish to open the possibility of such a step. It would be aimed at providing emergency funds for food and fuel.

These aides said the President will bring the congressmen up to date on the outlook for producing stop-gap aid without legislation, produce the latest figures on the European economic picture and other information that has become available since they met in September with Mr. Truman.

One source expressed the view that the minimum need is assurance of prompt action at the regular session beginning in January. That official said a special session would be the safer course if there is any assurance that the congressmen are ready to proceed.

It is generally accepted that if such a session is scheduled it would be around the first of December.

Conferees will include most heads of committees who will start hearings in mid-November on short and long term aid proposals. The Administration is assembling, for the congressmen, information on the Marshall plan under which 16 nations seek aid for economic well being.

Meanwhile, Americans who have been asked to save grain for Europe contemplated their third "poultry-less and eggless Thursday" while officials wrestled with proposals to amend this feature of the voluntary conservation program.

Charley Luckman, chairman of the citizens food committee leading the drive to save 100,000,000 bushels of grain, met with poultry and feed men who have argued that a poultry-less day actually saves no grain. Luckman said any substitute must be adequate as a conservation measure.

The committee received specific new proposals for grain saving submitted by the National Poultry Producers federation and groups representing commercial feed manufacturers and feed dealers. Luckman rejected last night a previous conservation offer as too general to warrant doing away with the poultryless day.

DE GAULLE PARTY TO URGE NEW NATIONAL VOTE

Parliamentary Elections To Be Sought After Assembly Support Secure

PARIS, Oct. 21 (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle's new French Peoples Party (RPF) will call for new parliamentary elections as soon as it has majority support in the national assembly to pave the way for the general's early return to power, a party spokesman said tonight.

The spokesman, Diomed Catroux, declared the RPF had nearly a third of the assembly's 483 deputies officially or unofficially pledged to support it prior to the past Sunday's municipal elections in which the party scored a wide success. Catroux said de Gaulle's followers believe they now have majority support in the assembly.

Lagging returns showed de Gaulle's new party and de Gaulle-led coalitions had won 38.6 percent of the popular vote reported so far in the municipal elections, more than any other party.

Catroux said de Gaulle's position was that he still considered himself above party politics and would refuse to take over the premiership under the present parliament. If a majority of the assembly called for a return of the general, the spokesman said, he would first insist on holding national elections. De Gaulle has criticized the present constitution as being too restrictive on the power of the executive.

He declared the de Gaulle party was working to bring about a union of Europe and that it was the "sense of the RPF" that "those who think in terms of national entities such as Belgium, France or Luxembourg belong to the 19th century."

Gen. de Gaulle, the country's first post-liberation president, resigned Jan. 10, 1946 when he found he could not get along with the Communists in his government. He did not begin organizing his new party until the past April.

The new party carried such important cities as Bordeaux, Marseille, Strasbourg and Paris.

U. S. Mission Finds Supplies in Greece

ATHENS, Oct. 21 (AP)—The American aid mission announced today it had uncovered supplies in Greek warehouses and docks originally worth $75,000,000 and said the discovery would save $9,000,000 or more in American expenditures under the aid program.

Dwight P. Griswold, head of the aid mission, told reporters he believed some of the consumer goods found were deliberately held off the market to maintain high prices. He said the discovery "definitely affects" the mission's future planning.

A mission statement said the huge amount of supplies—part of $1,000,000,000 worth sent to Greece since her liberation from the Nazis—was uncovered after a preliminary Greek government inventory and spot checks by mission personnel in the past two months.

Chile, Brazil End Diplomatic Tie With Russia in Move Against Reds

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Chilean government announced tonight that it had broken diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia.

An official said Chile's action was "intimately related with the Communist infiltration" in the nation's southern coal zone—recently the scene of labor unrest which Chilean authorities have attributed to Communist agitation.

It was understood that the government's decision removes any possibility of the Communist party in Chile having contact with Moscow or the new Communist international information bureau in Belgrade through diplomatic officials.

It means the ousting not only of Soviet diplomats but also the only remaining official representative of a country regarded as being in the Russian orbit.

Yugoslavia broke diplomatic relations with Chile the past week because of the expulsion of two Yugoslav diplomats. Chilean authorities accused the two Yugoslavs of operating under the direction of the new Communist international information bureau and in fomenting labor strikes in Chile.

Chile's action with regard to Russia and Czechoslovakia came a few hours after an announcement in Rio de Janeiro that Brazil had severed diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union.

Brazil's decision was taken as a result of what was described as "extremely outrageous and even alarmist" articles in the Russian press attacking President Eurico Gaspar Dutra and the Brazilian army.

The Soviet embassy in Santiago declined comment immediately on the Chilean action. No one answered the telephone in the residence of Czechoslovak Minister Jan Havlasa.

Today's developments came a short time after President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla announced his intention to "end once and for all" what he described as the Communist dictatorship over Chile's mine workers.

Previously, the president had accused the Communists of planning to cripple Chile's production of copper, nitrates and other strategic materials and hamper defense of the Western hemisphere and the United States.

Communist-dominated unions long have controlled the coal and many nitrate and copper mines.

Slow Deliveries Delaying Water Department Work

Inability to obtain early deliveries on orders for necessary iron piping is causing headaches for the Pottstown Water department.

Borough Manager Dow I. Sears, who yesterday placed an order for 3200 feet of 6-inch pipe with a nationally-known concern, said delivery was not promised until next May.

Sears said he had sent out specifications to 15 pipe manufacturing companies, but he received bids from only two concerns, both of which submitted almost identical bids. He said the largest pipe manufacturer in the United States sent him word he could not make delivery for two years and, therefore, did not submit a bid.

'Chain' Ghost Tale Feature of Scout Bonfire; Other Troops Make Plans for Future Events

A "chain" ghost story and news of a scrap drive, a covered dish social and 14-mile hikes featured Monday night's meetings of seven Pottstown area Boy Scout troops.

Troop 18 traveled to Tyson's woods in Limerick for a campfire. A ghost story, begun by William Glenney Jr., soon turned into a tale of "a horrible green light." Without preparation of any kind, the dozen scouts held the eight adults present in a state of suspense.

Ronald Seasholtz tried to end the story by burying the green light in the ground. But Ronald Mountain, 12, who was admitted to the troop at the meeting, brought things to a more vivid conclusion by inventing an ending that had the green light swelling the ground horribly whenever the moon was full. That ended the story.

While the chain story was being passed from boy to boy, Scoutmaster Edward Jameson crept up from the woods, and gave the gathering "the business" by rattling a club on the weatherboards of a shack while Troop Committeeman Robert Weller emitted ghostly noises.

An investiture ceremony early in the program. Mountain and William Mohr, graduates of Cub Pack 53, were awarded their tenderfoot badge.

After a doggie roast the meeting closed with the 12 scouts standing in a circle and turning on their flashlights as they recited a point of scout law. Garnet Nye, troop chairman, recited the scoutmaster's benediction.

Troop 6, meeting in Trinity Reformed church, announced it will hold a scrap drive Saturday. Anyone who has paper, rags or scrap iron to contribute was urged to call Scoutmaster Warren Hoover at 1547 or Walt Ziegler, assistant scoutmaster, at 36-J. The scouts will begin their hauling at 9 o'clock and the proceeds will be used to enable the boys to see a football game now being selected by Theodore Held.

After a period of work on tests and merit badges, the 15 boys present heard reports on the three-day camping trip made by nine scouts the past weekend to Camp Hopewell. Each of the boys who went moved two notches closer to the camping merit badge, which requires a scout to sleep, outdoors for 50 days and 50 nights.

Troop 4's covered dish social will be held next Monday night at 6:30 p. m. for the benefit of the troop treasury. The affair is in charge of a committee of church women headed by Mrs. Joseph James. Parents and friends of the troop members were invited to attend.

Following a covered dish social the troop will hold its Award Night and investiture services for four new scouts at Monday night's meeting. Lowell Hurter, coming from Cub Pack 53, was formally received into the troop.

The rest of the meeting was devoted to instruction on hiking methods and equipment.

Ram patrol members of Troop 7 will set out for a 14-mile hike to Boyertown and return Sunday under the leadership of patrol leader Richard Ludy.

Scoutmaster Raymond Stuchter announced that plans were being made for a Halloween party at Seales Memorial church next Monday, while the scouts who spent Saturday and Sunday at Camp

Lloyd near Harmonyville reported they had spent most of the time in building two lean-to's. Short sessions in knot-tying and judging rounded out the meeting.

cupped the meeting time of Troop 8 in Emmanuel Lutheran church, while the Elephant patrol elected Robert Wilkinson as patrol leader and Leonard Almond as assistant patrol leader.

Troop 14 welcomed three new members and announced that its Halloween party will be held next Monday night in the St. Clair school, where the group meets. Scoutmaster Edward Dorbey is in charge of party plans.

Five members of Stowe Troop 1 were praised by LaVerne Gaugler, who led them on a 14-mile hike to Bally Sunday. Gaugler told the meeting that the box lunch they packed proved sufficient for the hikers to finish the marathon walk in good condition.

Twenty-one members attended the Stowe meeting, which was devoted largely to game period and patrol meetings.

Duff Claims 'Ike' Can Be Considered White House Timber

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21 (P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower, now figuring prominently in discussion of Republican presidential possibilities for 1948, is "one of a number of men who are good presidential timber," Gov. James H. Duff said today.

"Insisting he has 'no candidate' although he favors the 'favorite' son" Ike, Duff asserted it is still too early to discuss individual candidates and added at his news conference:

"I think, as I said a couple of months ago, that we should get the best man at the time of the (Republican) convention to meet the then situation confronting the country both nationally and internationally."

He said if he is a delegate to the convention—as he has been at three GOP national conventions—he will make his own decision with regard to the man and without "respect to tradition or any other artificial considerations."

"If we pick the right man, I think we can win," he added.

Asked his opinion of what the questioner termed the GOP tradition against nominating a previously defeated candidate, Duff said "I don't care whether there is such a tradition" and then added:

"If you are trying to find out who I am for, I have no candidate at this time."

The governor also was asked if he believed Pennsylvania's favorite son would be pushed by the State's delegation for the presidency or vice presidency, but he replied "It is too early to answer a question of that kind."

U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, Duff's predecessor, has been boomed for more than a year by some Pennsylvania Republicans as the favorite son of the Keystone State, which will have 74 or more votes in the convention.

Police Pick Up Youth With Punch Boards

A Reiffouth youth of 18 years was escorted to borough hall at 8:30 o'clock last evening by Patrolman Galloway. The Berks county youth had an armful of punch boards intended, he said, for prizes of turkeys, chickens and ducks.

Police Sgt. Daniel J. Linton ordered the youth to take his punchboards out of town at once, warning him they are illegal and that, if he distributes them, he will report the case to the district attorney's office at Norristown. The youth left town at once.

Trusty Uses Prison Car To Flee Berks Jail

READING, Oct. 21 (P)—The warden of Berks county prison today reported the escape of Edgar Hofferker, 36, Pottsville, a trusty who used a prison car to make his getaway.

Warden Cyrus Reichert said Hofferker was missed at a routine roll call at 9 p. m. yesterday. Hofferker had access to the garage since becoming trusty June 1 and was assigned to duty as a mechanic.

Hofferker was sentenced to three years on charges of passing bad checks and was committed to prison April 30. He was described as five feet, seven inches tall, 172 pounds and with gray hair and ruddy complexion. He was wearing prison denim.

Change of Venue Denied Patrolman's Slayer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21 (P)—A plea for a change in venue in his trial on charges of murdering a police officer today was denied William K. Halliwell, 23-year-old convicted slayer of another policeman.

Judge Harry S. McDevitt refused the change and ordered the foster son of a child psychiatrist and a college professor stand trial Oct. 29 for the fatal shooting of Sgt. Samuel Hewitt.

Halliwell was convicted of first degree murder, Oct. 2, for killing patrolman James J. Quigley. The jury recommended life imprisonment. The two policemen were killed in a gun fight after a stolen car chase.

Columnist Finds Average Restaurant Sells Coffee Too Hot

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 21 (P)—The average restaurant serves its coffee too hot, compelling the average man to sit and stir it for an average of six minutes before sipping it.

And that means, at the rate of three cups a day, the same average man puts in the equivalent of about four and a half solid days a year just sitting and stirring coffee, says Roger V. Devlin, columnist for the Tulsa Tribune, who set a chemist friend to work with thermometers and a stop watch on the subject of hot coffee.

Here is his report on the chemist's other findings:

The average cup of coffee has a temperature of 165 degrees when it reaches you. . . . Anything above 144 degrees is much too hot, and can actually damage the lips. A brew of 136-degrees can be taken in small dribbles, but unless you allow it to cool a bit in the mouth, you'll probably wind up with warts on your esophagus.

"From 133 to 126 degrees is good hot coffee," he says, from 123 to 125 he described as having that "smooth" feeling. But when the coffee sagged to 118 degrees, it began to taste a little cool, and coffee at 106 degrees was "stone cold."

Adding an average portion of cream reduced coffee's temperature only two degrees and sugar cut it down only one degree, Devlin reported. "Vigorous stirring, contrary to the opinion held by many, reduced the heat by only one degree. Saucing the coffee cut it by three degrees."

Oil Profits Reported Near 60 Million Mark

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21 (P)—The Senate war investigating committee heard testimony today that 20 of the nation's largest oil companies rolled up excessive profits of $59,-856,000 on wartime projects.

The testimony was presented by C. Roland Larrabee, chief administrative officer of the Reconstruction Finance corporation's price adjustment board.

Sea Scouts Complete Plans for Weekend At Philadelphia Base

Final plans for a two-day trip to the Philadelphia Naval base this weekend were made by Sea Scouts at Monday night's meeting in the ship rooms of the S.S.S. Buccaneer in the Firestone plant.

The boys are required to be in uniform and to bring their own toilet articles, but everything else will be on the Navy. The 10 Pottstown boys will join 140 other Sea Scouts from the Valley Forge council.

The boys will sleep in Naval barracks, visit submarines, cruisers and aircraft carriers, and take a two-hour cruise on a PTC boat. They also will attend chapel Sunday morning and will eat three Navy meals.

The boys must arrive no later than 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon and will leave at 3:30 Sunday afternoon. Transportation will be furnished from the Firestone plant, where the group holds its meetings.

Two other events were announced—a Halloween party next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the ship's rooms and a trip to West Chester Teachers college Nov. 7 to see the teachers meet CCNY on the gridiron as guests of Coach Glenn Killinger.

Plans for the Halloween party are in charge of scouts Linwood Oliver, James Haag and Al McAllister.

Vet Finds Army Shirt While Seeking Work Togs

HASTINGS, Neb., Oct. 21 (P)—War veteran Charles E. Jenkins was buying work clothes in an Army-Navy store here when a familiar looking khaki shirt caught his eye.

It was the shirt he wore through the Solomon Islands campaign more than three years ago and turned in when he was graduated from Officers Candidate school in 1944.

His initials and serial number in the shirt were in Jenkins' own handwriting. When Jenkins submitted his dogtag as final proof, store manager George Engelbrecht gave him the shirt.

Boyeriown Children To Get Inoculations For Diphtheria Soon

The 1947 campaign to protect Berks county children under ten years of age against diphtheria will get underway next week and will move into Boyertown on Oct. 30, from 2 to 3 p. m. in Lincoln elementary school.

Sponsored by the Berks County Medical society, with the aid of the Visiting Nurse association, the campaign will serve children under ten years of age at free clinics set up in nearly 50 county schools, as well as in several community and fire halls.

The past year, 6121 Berks children were immunized through the program and Berks county had no fatal cases of diphtheria. It was reported by Dr. Sidney J. Sondheim, chairman of the advisory committee to the VNA.

In making the announcement, Dr. Sondheim also called attention to the fact that this year the first of the so-called war babies are attending school and that these children, as well as other children under ten years of age, deserve the protection of the immunization. Local physicians will administer the treatment, which is the only sure precaution against the disease.

Clinics will be held from 2 to 3 p. m. at the following places, in addition to Boyertown: Bally borough school, Tuesday, Oct. 28; Bechtelsville school, Wednesday, Oct. 29; Amityville consolidated school, Thursday, Oct. 30, and Earlville school, Friday, Oct. 31.

Prizes Awarded State Quiz Winners

Three prizes totaling $10 were voted to winners in the Pennsylvania week quiz contest by Boyertown High School Parent-Teacher association at a meeting last night in the high school.

Harry Reiff, the first place winner, will receive $5, while William Matz, second from the top will get $3 and William Dunkelberger, third, $2. Reiff scored 80, Matz, 76, and Dunkelberger, 75, in the test conducted the past Wednesday.

About 80 members and guests of both the high school and the Washington school association heard Mrs. Mabel Krom, of Reading Tuberculosis association, warn of the dangers of tuberculosis. A motion picture, which followed her talk, graphically warned of the danger symptoms and outlined the steps necessary to effect a cure.

Virginia Bickel played several piano selections. The high school association also voted $5 to the "1948 Bear," high school annual. Mrs. Roland R. Leister, president, was in charge.

Haas Estate Case Continues in Court

Among cases continued in October term of Civil court in Reading was the litigation of Wayland M. Haas estate against John E. Cleaver.

Miss Jeanne Rahn Becomes Bride of William F. Rose

The marriage of Miss Jeanne Rahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester S. Rahn, 138 South Reading avenue, Boyertown, to William F. Rose, 648 East Fourth street, Boyertown, son of William H. Rose Jr., of Spring City, was solemnized Saturday at 2 p. m. in Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, Boyertown.

The Rev. Harper L. Schneek, pastor, officiated with the double ring ceremony. The chancel was attractively decorated with large palms and white altar flowers. The pews were decorated with white satin ribbon bows.

Preceding the ceremony, Esther Brumback played an organ recital of bridal music. John Rose, uncle of the groom, sang "Because," "O, Promise Me," and the "Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in white bridal satin with a full-length train, featuring an off-the-shoulder neckline and net yoke, fitted bodice, full skirt, and long sleeves pointed over the wrist. She wore a finger-length veil of bridal tulle edged with lace and carried to a tizra of seed pearls, and a bouquet of white roses centered by an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Steward Frey, of Boyertown, was her sister's matron of honor, wearing a gown of dusty pink tulle, featuring a fitted bodice with a full cascading skirt with a matching train of seed pearls and shoulder veil. She wore long matching mitts and carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums and pompons.

The bridesmaids, Ann Maltz and Mrs. Richard Fadeley, both of Philadelphia, wore gowns styled like that of the matron of honor. Miss Maltz was attired in harvest gold and Mrs. Fadeley in ice blue with bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Bonnie Lorraine Frey, two and one-half year-old niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a gold silk ruffled gown trimmed with pastel colored flowers and a matching headpiece. She carried a basket of pink rosebuds and yellow pompons.

H. Douglas Rose was his brother's attendant. Ushers were J. Richard Christ, of Boyertown, and Gerald Eberly, a student at Penn State. All were attired in cutaway jackets and gray striped trousers.

The reception, held at the bride's residence, 138 South Reading avenue, Boyertown, was attended by about 70 guests.

The couple left on a motor trip through Ohio and Indiana, with Chicago, Ill., as their destination, where they will reside until the groom completes his training at a television institute there. For a going-away outfit, the bride chose a robin-egg blue velvet suit, gray satin hat, and black accessories, with the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

DEATHS - FUNERALS

EDWIN H. SCHEARER JR., 44, YELLOW HOUSE, died Sunday in Reading.

Employed by his father who operated the Yellow House hotel, the deceased was a former postmaster of the community, serving in that capacity for three years following the retirement of William D. Reese.

Advice to the Lovelorn

'Mind Your Own Business', Reader Says

IT IS always interesting to hear from readers who disagree with me, and letters that object to views I have expressed are by no means rare.

Most of these letters take issue with me on specific things I have said. Recently I have received one from a reader who doesn't like anything about me. He, or she, and your guess is as good as mine as to which it is, since only the initials "T.W.N." are signed—seems to think this column considers itself something of an oracle whose pronouncements are inspired and infallible.

Know what those big words mean, "T.W.N.?"

Here is what "he" says: "I am a constant reader of your column and I read it not because I enjoy it but only because I wonder how anyone can call themselves an 'authority' as you do. You give advice to people in love. Did you take a course on love problems? What authority do you have to sling out stuff to broken hearts? I have to laugh at your so-called advice."

"I think that any person, young or old, who has to write for advice on love does not deserve to have a mate. If they cannot settle their own problems, as silly as they are, without writing to someone who knows very little about them, what will they do when you run out of advice."

"I often wonder if these lovesick people take your advice. If they do, as I said before, they don't deserve to love or to be loved. Let people solve their own problems. You can't be right too many times. I am sure your writing cannot be too helpful too often when you are minding other people's business."

Besides signing the initials "T.W.N.," this correspondent of mine uses a nom de plume. This pen name, which he signs just above his initials is "Needing No Advice."

Now is a certainly very fine indeed when anyone is so well equipped with good judgment that he never needs to seek advice, and I congratulate "T.W.N." on his good fortune in this respect. At the same time, he must remember that most of us human beings sometimes find it useful to get another person's point of view on our problems. There is an old saying to the effect that sometimes one "can't see the woods for the trees," which is only another way of saying that if you are right in the center of something, whether it be a problem or a forest, you can easily become confused. It is at such times that a person outside the problem—the forest—can sometimes help the confused person orient himself and so get straightened out once more.

This is the sort of thing I hope this column may sometimes do for those who find themselves in bewildering situations—not to act as an "authority" slinging out stuff to broken hearts," as "T.W.N." puts it, but merely to offer a detached viewpoint that may help them see their way, a little more clearly.

So go ahead and have your laugh, "T.W.N." It is nice to think that you are a "constant reader of my column—even if that is all you get out of it."

HUBLEY'S RUN —

pose a problem in the matter of its odor and danger to children, but it is a breeding place for rats, mice and mosquitoes, Mrs. Dimon said.

"We've been complaining about it for years, but nothing has been done," she declared.

"We can't keep our windows open," Mrs. Helen Harmonick, 457 Cherry street, asserted. "On Saturdays and Sundays and after 8 o'clock at night, the smell is terrible. It brings on splitting headaches. Even going by in a closed car you can smell it."

She was seconded by her neighbor, Mrs. Anna Skokowski, 458 Cherry street.

"Something has to be done about it," Mrs. Skokowski claimed.

Mrs. Mitro Lengyel, 182 South Washington street, had her home tightly closed against the smell.

"It began to smell worse this summer than ever before," she said. "The smell chokes you at night and seeps into the house even through closed windows."

"They should take that out of there," Mrs. Arlene Wambach, 454 1/2 Cherry street, declared emphatically. "It can be smelled as far away as Evans street."

It was pointed out by Mrs. Wambach's home that when the creek is high, the banks get black with grease that flows along the top of the water. It was believed that grease pits or car washing drains probably empty into the run at some higher point.

The run drains Adams and Sheridan streets through one of its branches and the Brookside country club, Isabella street, and The Hill school through the other. It gathers in water from these two large areas.

Sears said yesterday that the last sanitary sewer was taken out of the run last year and that State inspections since show no sewers emptying raw sewage into the creek.

"The borough is not responsible for arching it," Sears said. "since it is entirely on private property."

The property, he added, is owned by the Doehler-Jarvis corporation, the Reading company, the Binder Realty company, and the Bethlehem Steel company.

He estimated that it would cost between $50,000 and $70,000 to cover the stream to its outlet.

The police are checking the area to find persons who are aggravating the condition by dumping garbage in the creek, Sears added.

Borough Solicitor C. Edmund Wells said two courses of action are open to the sanitary committee if they can find sufficient facts to declare the run a public nuisance. The borough, he explained, then can condemn it and force the property owners to cover the stream, or the borough can do the work and place a lien against the property until repayment is made.

Another borough official attributed the odor to stagnation in pools above the outlet, since the sewage has been removed. He felt a good rain might help to alleviate the condition now by flushing out much of the matter which has gathered in the water during the dry spell.

Rally Spurs Union To PAC Program

A rally and open house, planned to start Political Action committee activity within Local 2177, United Steelworkers of America (CIO), was attended by about 250 members of the local and their wives last night in the Singer building, King street.

Chief speaker at the meeting was Robert Connor, chairman of the Montgomery and Chester counties CIO council and a member of Local 644, United Auto Workers.

Connor explained the set-up of PAC, both on the state and national level, and outlined its functions and aims.

He warned workers not to cease opposition to the Taft-Hartley bill or to let the presidential election be an "apathetic" as was the congressional election.

Connor spoke in place of Jerry Schafflander, Detroit, who was forced to cancel his appearance at the last minute.

After the meeting, the rally was entertained by a professional singer, accordionist and a ventriloquist. Refreshments were served.

Before the rally, shop stewards of the Bethlehem Steel plant local union held a meeting.

he described as an interested participant in the drive.

Curtiss then took charge of the meeting, opening his remarks with the statement, "I'm glad to be chairman of this campaign again this year. I came to Pottstown in 1935; I love this town, and I want to see it progress."

He spurred his co-workers on in their forthcoming 10-day drive by assuring them that they had nothing to fear in seeking funds.

"I don't believe there should be any fear of asking if you believe in what you are asking for," Curtiss affirmed. "If we keep plugging, we can't lose."

He introduced upon the stage typical representatives of the 11 agencies aided by the Chest, including the Salvation Army, Memorial hospital, Pottstown hospital, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Children's Aid society of Montgomery county, Family Welfare society, the Public Library, Visiting Nurse organization, YWCA and YMCA.

Following Saylor's talk, Frank Arena, of Reading, conducted a quiz program.

The meeting ended with the showing of a motion picture, "The Red Feather," and the announcement by Curtiss that the first report luncheon would be held in the YMCA auditorium at 12:30 p. m. Friday.

article and sent it to New York Communist headquarters.

In Hollywood, Weber denied Moffitt's charges and called them a "malicious invention."

Commenting on Moffitt's testimony, Air Force officials here said tonight that if Goodlin's article had contained anything "seriously" secret, action would have been taken under the national defense act.

An Air Force officer said that Goodlin was "just a jockey" although a high-priced one at $15,000 for each test which might run from three days to six weeks—and that in testing the new XS1 at Muroc, Calif., Goodlin could have gained "only limited knowledge."

GUARD MEETINGS —

event of an emergency, national guard units would be sent to the new-type divisions rather than the older triangular one.

Maj. Karl E. Osenlund, unit instructor for the 236th Organized Reserve Composite group, addressed a separate meeting of this group, and the 865th Replacement company.

He said that the new efficiency reports "are more objective, providing a finer calibration and giving a truer picture of an officer's capabilities for the use of the Career Planning board in Washington."

He brought along the first recorded Army efficiency report, filed in 1813. In it an anonymous captain was termed, "A man of whom all unite in speaking ill. A knave despised by all." An ensign of 1813 made out worse—"The very dreg of the earth. Unfit for anything under Heaven. God knows how the poor thing got an appointment."

After the addresses, the three groups united to see sound films on combat operations in the European theater.

Lt. Col. Brooke M. Lessie, Schwenksville, commander of the 236th ORGC, announced that his group will be addressed Nov. 18 in the YMCA by Col. George A. Cocke, 1313 Cherry street, on infantry divisions.

Maj. Osenlund invited any reserve corps members of any rank to go on 15 to 90 days of active duty. He said they could obtain applications from his office, 500 Penn street, Reading.

PRISONERS FLEE —

closed behind them, prison officials said the quarter then broke into a heavy tool chest reinforced with wire from which they took a heavy hatchet, hammer and three screw drivers.

These guards said, were used to knock off the lock of a heavy wooden door at the end of the weave room. This accomplished, they slid into the darkness to the nearby 30-foot wall which they apparently scaled easily despite its heavy barbed wire covering.

Noticing "restlessness" among the other prisoners, an investigation by Harry Dowd, prison guard stationed in the receiving room, discovered the broken doors.

A quick check disclosed the break and the quarter missing.

Returning to the room, Dowd rushed other guards outside with shotguns, believing the men might be hiding on the roof. Within a few minutes it was determined that the quarter were at liberty.

City, county and State police were notified immediately. Meanwhile, prison guards took up arms and made a quick but unavailing search. They grabbed up shotguns, rifles or revolvers, and fanned over the prison area.

Sgt. Michael Reilly, of the Pennsylvania State police, responding with a detail from the West Reading barracks ordered all roads leading from the prison carefully guarded. During the night, he summoned additional details from the barracks to assist in the hunt, and the troops stopped at every lighted home in the area to make certain that ignition keys were taken from all automobiles.

From the prison, Reilly called railroad transportation lines to be on the lookout for the four whose description had been broadcast to police in Reading, Allentown, Lancaster, Pottstown, Pottsville and Philadelphia.

State police described the escaped prisoners as follows:

DION—Aged 29, 5 feet 8 inches, 140 pounds, light complexion, sandy hair.

JALBERT—Aged 24, 5 feet 7 inches, 125 pounds, slender, ruddy complexion.

NICKERSON—Aged 24, 5 feet 6 inches, 138 pounds, medium build, ruddy complexion, dark brown hair.

YOUSE—Aged 19, 5 feet 10 inches, 149 pounds, slender build, dark complexion.

FLAMES SWEEP —

They were aided in the fight against the flames by residents of that section who used brooms and rakes.

The phone call to the firemen was sent in by Mrs. Ivan March, who resides at the intersection. Flames spread toward the home of Mrs. Mary Neiman, but there was no property damage. Officer Daniel W. Guldin, of North Coventry township, directed traffic at the intersection.

Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, who directed the fire fighting, said the blaze was started by employees of the signboard firm of Hen Johnston, of Reading. Fire had been set to advertising paper which was scraped from a huge billboard at the corner. The old paper was set on fire and ignited the dry grass and weeds.

The Good Will Fire company was summoned to the Sixth ward at 5 o'clock last night when a grass fire caused some alarm to residents in the vicinity of Sembling avenue, between Price and Rowland streets. There was no property loss. A small boy told one of the firemen he set the grass on fire.

PEPPER TELLS —

"They can't send a man to jail for exercising his civil rights," Pepper replied. The Florida senator said he was speaking about conduct of the House investigation "as a citizen and a senator who has a right to express his views."

Pepper termed the House hearings "underhanded" and "an affront to the dignity of citizenship."

"This may be the Stalingrad in the attack upon civil liberties in this country," Pepper told reporters. He said that witnesses should tell the House committee:

"You have no right to drag me up here, subject me to ridicule and maybe lose me my job."

The senator said that the attack upon "a free motion picture industry" may be followed by similar attacks to "cure and censor the press."

"I think the American press ought to rally and denounce the whole thing," he added.

Hobbyist Tells Lions How He Amassed 3000 Autographs

Billed as "The World's Foremost Autograph Collector," Ed Rowland, Pittsburgh, told 46 members of the Pottstown Lions club at their dinner meeting last night how he and other hobbyists have been aided by horsehoes, gangsters and rosters that roller skate.

A former bank teller, Rowland wearily of examining plain citizens' signatures, and in 1935 began to amass his total of 3000 autographs of the famous, which is insured for $12,000.

On a trip to Kentucky, he said, he got two old shoes from Long Shot—the only horse to beat Man O'War. By producing these shoes he intrigued Henry Ford's secretary in Detroit, and got the autograph of the motor magnate after all else had failed for three days and three nights.

When Governor Thomas E. Dewey was New York City district attorney, Rowland sought his address from four city police, but they didn't know. In desperation, he searched the streets for the toughest character he could find—who promptly told him the address down to the office number.

Rowland cited a southern hobbyist's work in training eight roosters to skate around a room on specially-made roller skates as an example of making hobbies pay.

The speaker was obtained through the efforts of William White, vice president, who was in charge of last night's meeting in the Elks home.

Paul Hoffman was announced as the member responsible for arranging the appearance of the Utah Centennial chorus at next Tuesday's meeting. This group of 10 men singers has been judged an unusual enough attraction for the Lions to invite the borough Kiwanis and Optimists clubs to attend after the three groups have their separate dinners. Both clubs accepted the invitation.

Included on this program will be a color film, "Trek from Vermont to Utah."

Ben Franklin High Hit by Fifth Blaze

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21 (AP)—The fifth fire since Oct. 9 broke out in Benjamin Franklin High school during noon recess today.

All of the fires except the first, which swept through the observation roof tower of the old school building, have been minor ones. Today's blaze, which started on a pupil's desk, was extinguished by school authorities without sounding an alarm. The only damage was a charred desk top.

Valley Forge Patient Apprehended Here With Stolen Articles

A mental patient from the Valley Forge General Hospital, Phoenixville, who was picked up by police early yesterday morning in a restaurant at Charlotte and Queen streets, was returned to the institution yesterday by military police from the hospital.

The patient, Walter W. Nebeker, 24, was taken into custody by Patrolmen Robert Scheidt and Russell Hummel following a police call by Leon Passarres, of 28 South Charlotte street.

When he was examined at borough hall, a miscellaneous collection of articles was found on him. Articles, which, according to police, had been stolen from parked automobiles, including the following: Three flashlights, two screw drivers, several hair combs, two flashlight batteries, a knife, a number of lead pencils, tire tape, automobile tire valves, and a collection of nuts and bolts.

Chief of Police James A. Laughhead said persons who have been missing articles from their cars may call and inspect the collection.

British Flying Boat Crashes Into Thames

LONDON, Oct. 21 (AP)—An RAF Sunderland flying boat crashed in the fog in the Thames Estuary today and six of the crew were rescued by salvage workers on a ship wrecked earlier in the day.

The bodies of two other RAF men were brought from the blazing aircraft hulk, however, and two more of the 10-man crew were unaccounted for.

The ship, the London Power company's collier, Charles Parsons, sank after a collision with another vessel whose fate was unknown. One man of the Charles Parsons crew is missing and 16 were picked up by the Norwegian steamer which was forced by the dense fog to anchor before reaching port.

Planes landing at London airport were "talked down" by ground crews watching their approach on radar screens. The fog was London's first of the Autumn season.

Florida Legislator Convicted by Court

BONIFAY, Fla., Oct. 21 (AP)—State Senator E. Bert Riddle was convicted today by a circuit court jury of charges of fondling an eighth grade pupil in the rural Poplar Springs school of which he was principal.

The jury which deliberated 50 minutes after a day-long trial recommended that the judge exercise mercy in sentencing the red-haired, 50-year-old preacher-teacher-politician.

Presiding Judge Ira A. Hutchinson deferred passing sentence until after he has heard tomorrow a new trial motion filed by John M. Coe, Riddle's attorney.

The maximum penalty for the offense is 10 years in the State prison. Riddle, who had sat placidly through the trial, turned pale but otherwise showed no emotion when the six-man jury verdict was announced.

Police Capture Pair Accused of Holdup

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21 (AP)—Police captured two men accused of holding up a jeweler and his employee as the pair attempted to make a getaway through the mid city Benjamin Franklin hotel today.

Both put up a fight before five officers subdued them in an engine room of the hotel.

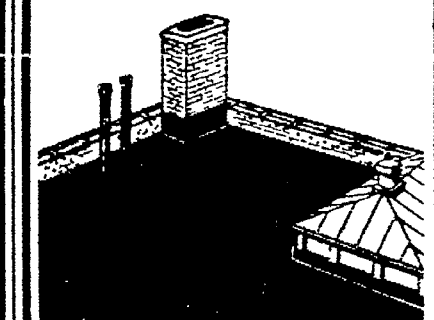

A block away at the jewelry store two gunmen took 12 watches valued at $1,000 and $128 in cash. When he resisted, jeweler Murray Friedlander, 43, was beaten on the head with a pistol as was an employee, Allan Margat, 35, when he came to Friedlander's rescue.

Attracted by shouts of the men, police rushed to the scene and cornered the fugitives.

Acting Detective Lt. William Farley identified the suspects as Earl Donaldson, 18, who he said claimed to be from Franklin, Tex., and was AWOL from Camp Meade, Md., and William R. Henderson, 24, who declared he had no home. No charges have been filed but the two are being held for hearing tomorrow.

Royersford Legion Contributes $100 For New School

Capt. Harris Buckwalter Post 164, American Legion, Royersford, visualizing a public need, came out with a gesture which will go down in history, by voting to contribute $100 as the nucleus of a fund for a proposed new grade school building, at its monthly meeting Monday night.

Moreover, the post augmented this outright donation with a pledge to contribute a percentage of all benefits the post may sponsor or promote in the future, which will eventually amount to a neat sum. The $100 contribution was ordered payable to Royersford School district. In voting payment of this sum, the post had in mind replacing the old and outmoded Adams building, corner of Fourth avenue and Spring street, with a new and modern structure.

The Adams building, which served as the high school until the new Junior-Senior high school building was erected some years ago, is the second oldest school building in the borough. The oldest was the Washington school, which was abandoned several years ago, at Fifth avenue and Church street.

The Adams building has been used for elementary grade school instruction since the new Junior-Senior high school was erected at Seventh avenue and Washington street.

Officers of the post were formally installed during the meeting by Hastings Crouthamel, deputy district commander of the Ninth district. Report of a gain of 62 new members over the roster of the past year was made, and a membership campaign, now in full swing, was ordered continued.

Officers inducted were: George J. Major, commander; Carl H. Hagstrom, senior vice-commander; Edmund Hart, junior vice-commander; Charles F. Thompson, adjutant; Ralph H. Landes, finance officer; Earle Erb, chaplain; James Sutton, welfare and service officer; J. Morris Peterman, historian and publicity officer; Paul Yerx, sergeant-at-arms.

In some detail, Clark stressed that before they will become party to any convention setting up international control, the minority group wants us to lay aside our atomic weapons. We would thus be abandoning one of our greatest elements of strength without the assurances of collective security which offer, and with no assurance that the weapon we ourselves developed could not be prepared by other nations for use against us.

Clark also solicited the co-operation of lawyers everywhere in bringing into being the proposed international bill of rights under the United Nations charter.

Wolverines Collect
147 First Place Votes;
Illinois Moves Into Fifth

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Although they can't prove a thing, for the simple reason that the two teams don't face each other this season, many of the nation's sports writers expressed confidence today that Michigan would whip Notre Dame if the two should square off on a football field.

By an overwhelming majority, a cross section of the voting in the weekly poll of the Associated Press selected Fritz Crisler's mighty Wolverines as the top team in the land and assigned second place to the unbeaten Irish for the second straight time.

Of the 136 writers who participated in the most extensive voting in the history of the poll, 147 of them named Michigan first on their ballots. Since the Wolverines drew only 93 first-place votes a week ago, many observers were more impressed with Michigan's 49-21 walloping of Northwestern than with Notre Dame's 31-0 shutout over Nebraska.

On the usual basis of ten points for a first-place vote, nine for second, and so on, Michigan wound up with a total of 1790 points.

Notre Dame received 21 first-place votes, two less than a week ago, but gathered a flock of second-place ballots and held firmly to second place with a point total of 1553.

Texas, which defeated Arkansas, 21-6, for its fifth win in five starts, was placed first on ten ballots and remained in third place with 1351 points, while California, which kept up a similar pace with an identical triumph over Washington State, remained in fourth place with 969 points although the Bears got only one first-place vote.

Illinois, sixth last week, moved into fifth place after its 40-13 win over previously unbeaten Minnesota and Army moved up a notch to sixth place on the strength of its 40-0 showing against Virginia Tech.

Despite a 27-7 triumph over Auburn which kept their all-victorious record alive, Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets slumped from fifth to seventh place, five points behind Army.

Pennsylvania, 34-14 winner over Columbia, and Penn State, which crushed Syracuse, 40-0, retained their eighth and ninth positions, respectively.

The only newcomer to the top ten was Southern California, which moved from 11th to tenth place by virtue of its 48-6 victory over Oregon State, replacing Vanderbilt, knocked out of the unbeaten ranks by Kentucky.

None of this week's top ten have met defeat this season. Seven are all-victorious and the other three, Illinois, Army and Southern California, have been tied once.

Three more teams sent representatives to the City Basketball League meeting last night at Borough Hall bringing the total of teams entered in the league to 12.

Francis Donnon, director of recreation in Pottstown, announced that only 11 teams are really represented at the moment but the league is counting on Doehler's Diecasters to enter a team.

Fleischmann's, one of the past year's league teams, entered the league last night and the Norco Collegians revealed that they would go under the name of the Brownback foundry.

NATIONAL LOOP
DOMINATES AP
ALL-STAR TEAM

Senior League Places
Six Players on Club;
Ted Williams Repeats

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (P)—Six National league players and four American leaguers make up the 1947 major league All-Star team as selected for the Associated Press by 233 baseball writers throughout the nation.

Strangely enough, the World Champion New York Yankees show only one representative while the Brooklyn Dodgers, National league pennant winners, did not place a single man on the team. Neither did the St. Louis Cardinals nor the Detroit Tigers who finished second in their respective leagues.

The New York Giants, Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves, neither of whom finished better than third, placed two men apiece. One representative from the Yankees, one from the Boston Red Sox, one from the Cincinnati Reds and another from the Pittsburgh Pirates completed the team. Last year the American league dominated with seven representatives as compared to three for the National.

Only one member of the 1946 team, the first ever selected for the Associated Press, repeated in 1947. He was Ted Williams, the slugging outfielder of the Red Sox who led the American league in batting, home runs and runs batted in.

No player was an unanimous choice. Williams, the American league's triple crown king, drew the most support from the scribes, being named on 209 of the 233 ballots cast. Joe DiMaggio, the Yankees' great centerfielder, ranked close behind Williams with 207 votes.

Johnny Mize of the Giants, who tied Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh for the home run title of the major leagues with 51 round trippers, gathered the third highest total of votes, 191—189 of them for first base, to win that position handily. His other two votes were for the outfield.

Kiner, the hard-hitting sophomore flycatcher, received 137 votes to join Williams and DiMaggio in making up one of the hardest hitting outfields ever selected for one team.

Lou Boudreau, playing manager of the Indians, currently mentioned in assorted trades involving every team in the American league, came fourth in vote getting with 177 for shortstop. Walker Cooper, the Giants' hard hitting catcher, who made a fine comeback following a disappointing 1946 season, paced the receivers with 141 votes.

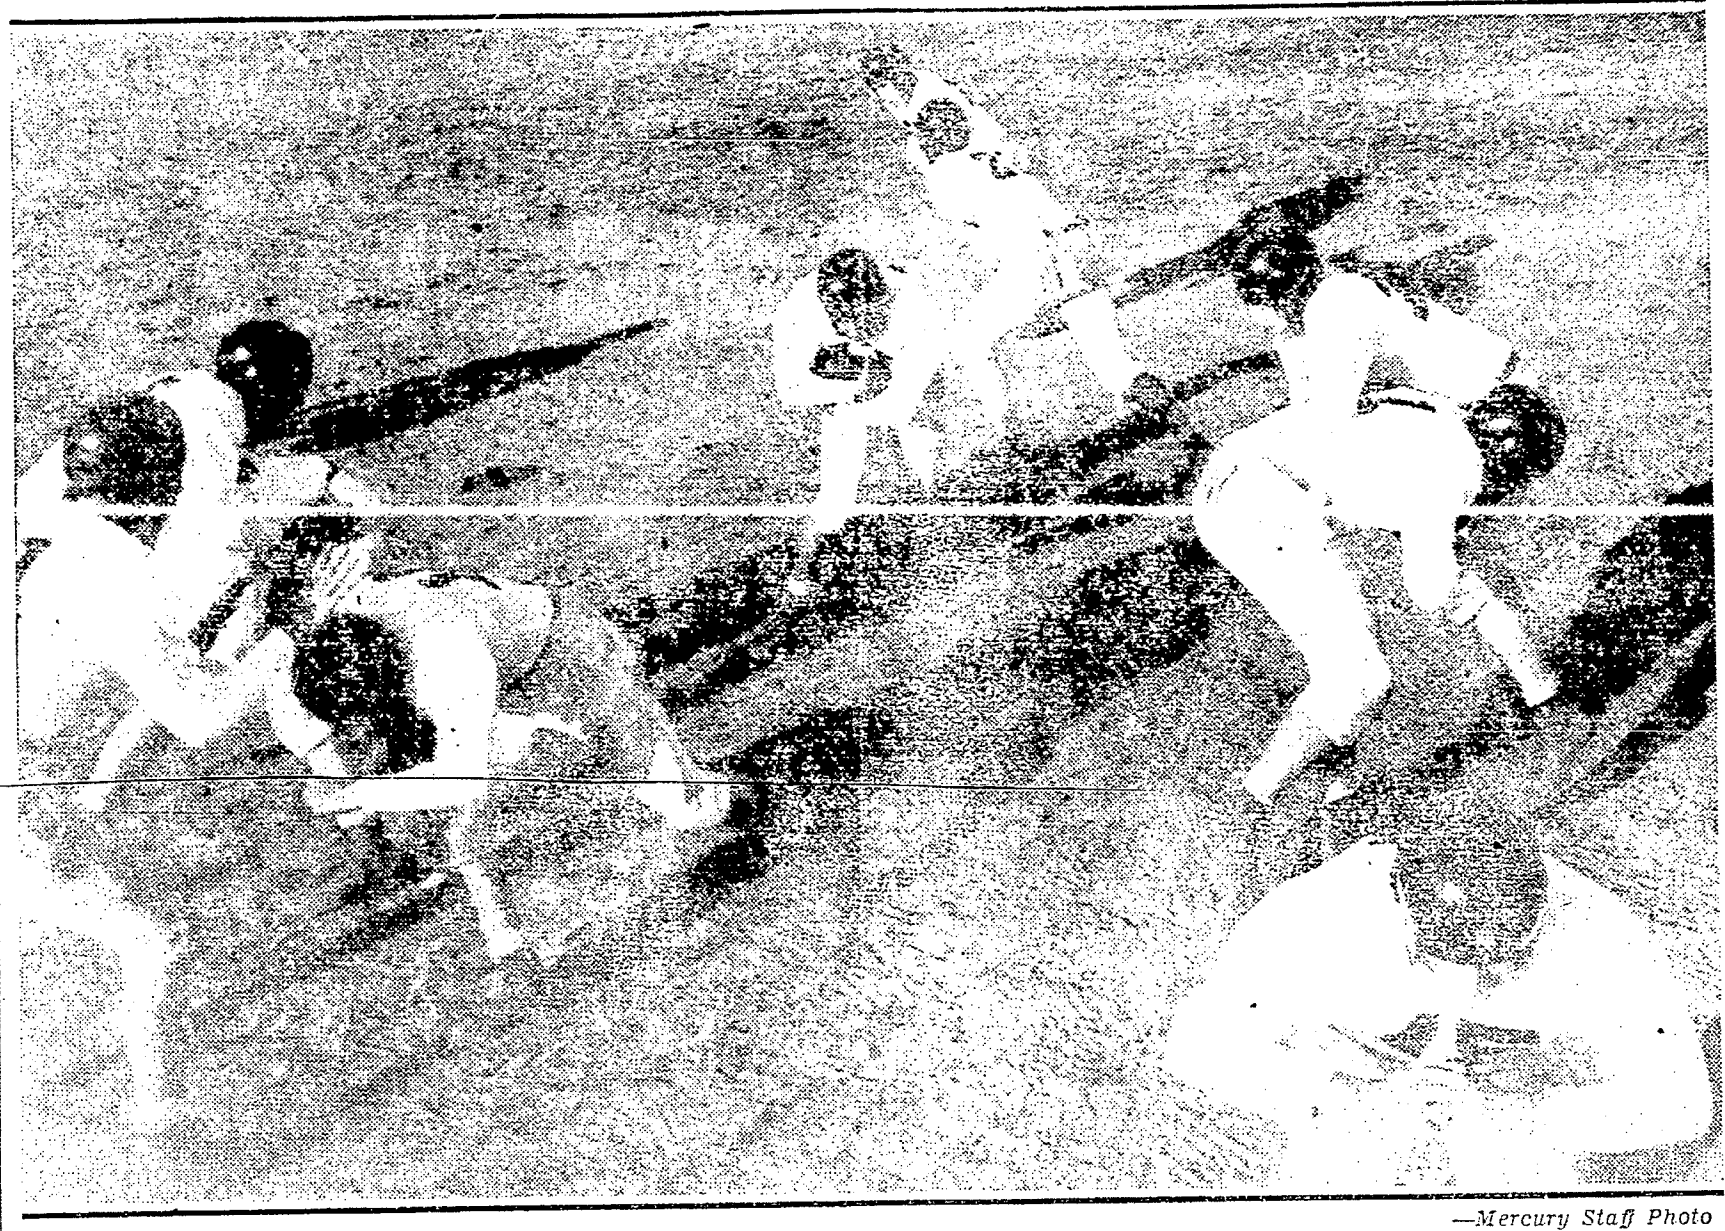

Another comeback kid, Joe Gordon, whom the Indians acquired from the Yankees in a pre-season trade for pitcher Allie Reynolds, topped the second base men with 113 votes.

The smallest number of required votes for a winner went to Bob Elliott of the Braves, whose 99 votes were enough to win him third base in a hotly contested battle with George Kell of the Detroit Tigers.

Ewell Blackwell, lanky no-hit hurler of the Reds, dominated the pitchers. The majors' biggest winner polled 158 votes to only 55 for Cleveland's Bob Feller to win the number one berth among the right-hand pitchers. Warren Spahn, the Braves' 21-game winner, gained the number one left-hand pitching honors by polling 115 votes to 61 for Joe Page.

The All-Star team:
Outfielders—Ted Williams, Red Sox, 343; Joe DiMaggio, Yankees, 315, and Ralph Kiner, Pirates, 313.
First base—Johnny Mize, Giants, 302.
Second base—Joe Gordon, Indi-

Fullback Finds Big Hole

Bob "Chink" Dobry, Pottstown High fullback, has just taken the ball from quarterback Dick Keene (back facing camera in center, background), finds a big hole in the Trojan line and picks up some yardage during yesterday's practice as Coach Heeb Meyers started brushing up the Pottstown offense. Keene can be seen carrying out his fake to Chubby Stouch in the background after handing off the ball. The Trojans are preparing to meet West Chester High in the annual Alumni Homecoming Day contest on Franklin Field Saturday.

Trojans Preparing For West Chester

Pottstown High school's Trojans, suffering only minor bruises in the past Saturday's game with Phoenixville, returned to Franklin field yesterday and began preparing to meet West Chester High school in the annual Alumni Homecoming Day game Saturday afternoon.

This game, which is expected to draw many of the Pottstown High alumni back to Franklin field, is scheduled to get under way at 2:15 o'clock. It will be the first day contest at home for the Trojans this fall.

Yesterday, Coach Heeb T. Meyers once again started to strengthen his offense. The Trojan mentor gave the kids some new plays which he expects to work against West Chester's defense.

The coaches are beginning to stress passing once again and early reports reveal that the Trojans may open with a deadly passing attack Saturday.

West Chester comes to Pottstown Saturday with a veteran team composed of 13 lettermen. About nine of the lettermen were regulars on the past year's starting team and will be out to avenge the 32-7 defeat handed them in 1946 by the Trojans.

The Warriors boast a strong offensive attack with good running and passing backs. Rickey Riccardo can run and pass and does most of the tossing for Coach Bill Hickman's charges. Ned Harris, big Negro fullback, does most of the running and also does some passing.

The Warriors sport a record of three wins and two losses. They have lost 6-0 decisions to Woodbury and Phoenixville and have beaten Collingsdale, P. S. DuPont and Downingtown. Their latest win was a 20-12 conquest of Downingtown the past week.

Umpire, Known
Here, Reaches
Major Leagues

John M. Stevens, former Phoenixville resident who officiated Pottstown High and The Hill school athletic contests, has become a member of the American league staff of umpires. Stevens was purchased yesterday from the American Association where he worked as an umpire during the 1947 season.

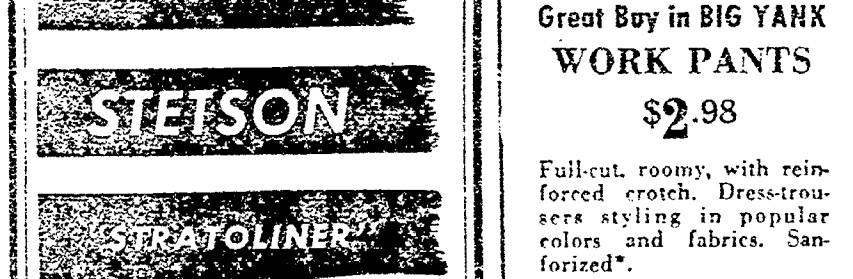

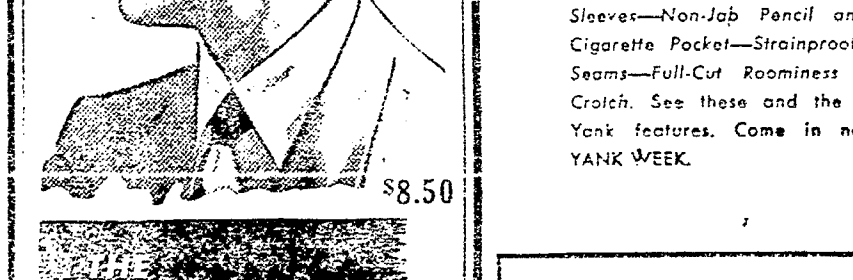

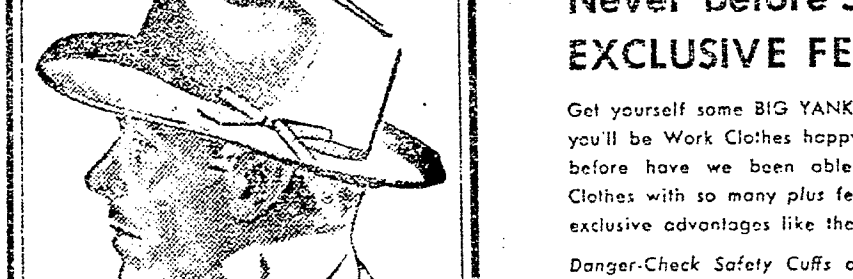

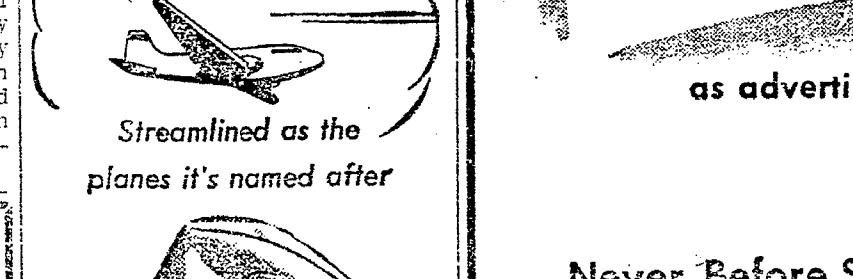

Stevens, who is 34, umpired for Pottstown High and The Hill school baseball contests and refereed basketball games for both schools in the late 1930s.

He started his officiating career back in 1937, working in baseball, basketball, and football games. His first connection with organized baseball was with the Eastern league in 1944 and 1945.

Stevens worked in the playoffs of the Eastern league. He was purchased by the American Association early in 1947 and made good in that circuit, umpiring in the Little World Series between Milwaukee and Syracuse.

Banquet Will Honor
Local Baseball Players

All members of teams in the City-Industrial baseball league will be honored at a banquet tonight in the Boyertown Orioles starting at 6:30 o'clock. Doehler's Diecasters, 1947 league champions, will receive a trophy at the banquet and movies of the Pottstown High football games of 1946 will be shown.

New York Giants Acquire
Paul Governali From Yanks
In Big Pro Football Trade

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—New York's winless football Giants finally found a friend among their rivals in the National league today when the Boston Yanks came through with a passer in a trade that will help the entire circuit in its box-office battle with the All-American conference.

The move, designed to strengthen their sagging offensive and attendance figures to match, brought Paul Governali, a native New Yorker, to the Giants, who in turn sent fullback Bill Paschal to the Yanks along with their claim to an All-American tackle, George Connor of Notre Dame.

"We had to do something," said Coach Steve Owen, whose Giants have a record of three losses and one tie in league play this season, "and I think we made a good deal."

Although it wasn't brought out at the news conference in which the trade was announced, the Giants face an increasingly serious box-office threat from the rival New York Yankees, who lead the Eastern division of the All-American conference and own such drawing cards as Spec Sanders and Buddy Young.

After playing to sellout crowds of more than 60,000 last season when they won the National league's Eastern title, the Giants opened their home schedule the past Sunday before 37,144 and bowed to Boston, 14-0, thereby chasing away a lot of prospective future customers.

The Yankees, by comparison, drew 36,777 for their first home game with the Chicago Rockets earlier in the season.

Beginning Nov. 9, New York fans will have one National league game and at least one All-American conference game from which to choose each Sunday afternoon.

Ironically, it was Governali, an All-American halfback at Columbia in 1942, who engineered the Giants' latest defeat by hurting two touchdown passes for the Boston Yanks the past Sunday.

His departure from Boston means that the Yanks will rely chiefly on Frank (Boley) Dancewicz for their passing in the future.

In Paschal's place, the Giants will alternate two rookies, Gordon Paschka, formerly of Minnesota, and Gene Roberts, erstwhile Chattanooga flash who recently got off the injury list.

Since the National league's trading deadline had expired, today's deal was accomplished through waivers. Boston released Governali and New York claimed him, having first choice because of a last-place record. In turn, the Giants, released Paschal and Detroit, the only other team below Boston in the standings, waived him on to the Yanks.

U. S. Plans to Sell Surplus Army Goods To Germany for Miners and Workers

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 21 (P)—American authorities have agreed to sell $100,000,000 worth of surplus U. S. Army supplies to the Germans to clothe Western Germany's miners and industrial workers, it was revealed tonight.

Huge quantities of old American Army uniforms and shoes will be turned over to the Germans soon, it was said. Officials of Western Germany's economic administration said the surplus clothes would be sold on a deferred credit basis—that is, as Western Germany builds up export credits the cost of the clothes will be deducted.

German officials said the agreement between the U. S. military government and the German bi-zonal economic administration was designed to improve the conditions of German workers, particularly miners.

Bethany Groups Plan Scrapbooks, Playlet

Two young peoples' groups met at Bethany center yesterday, the Junior Hi-Y girls in the afternoon and a new drama and musical group in the evening.

Four girls at the 4 p. m. meeting, under the leadership of William S. Carden, YMOA Extension director, decided to make their major activity the construction of scrapbooks.

Those present were Shirley and Nancy Jackson, Marlene Oliver and Catherine Reid.

At their next Tuesday meeting, the girls' group will choose a subject for a play to be presented in the near future.

Mathilde Carden met a group of youths at 7 o'clock last night at Bethany center, to discuss the formation of a new dramatic and singing group.

They will meet every Tuesday at the same time, it was announced after last night's first session.

Romanian Newspapers Deleie Horoscopes

BUCHAREST, Oct. 21 (P)—All Romanian newspapers have ceased publication of horoscopes, following a Communist paper's blast at an opposition organ for carrying them. One informant said the opposition organ was suspected of issuing code messages, through the horoscopes, to national liberal party leaders in the provinces.

Non-Union Workers Would Break ITU Randolph Testifies

BALTIMORE, Oct. 21 (P)—Woodruff Randolph, president of the International Typographical union, declared today that putting non-union men into organized print shops would in time mean the "absolute destruction" of the ITU.

Randolph, whose union traditionally has operated on a closed shop basis, made his statement in testimony before Chief Trial Examiner William R. Ringer, of the National Labor Relations board.

He further told the examiner, after terming the ITU the "only stabilizing influence" in the printing industry, that the laws of the union are not subject to change by the process of collective bargaining.

"When a local union enters into collective bargaining," he said, "it is taken for granted that if a contract is to ensure that contract will include such 'ITU' laws as are in accordance with the international and approved by the president."

The ITU leader said that "the injection of non-union men in composing rooms would result in the absolute destruction within not too long a time of the International Typographical union."

The union the past August adopted a "no contract" policy and substituted instead "conditions of employment" under which its members would work.

The ITU and its Baltimore Local 12 are charged by the NLRB with refusal to bargain collectively in good faith with the Baltimore Graphic Arts league, which is composed of 22 printing firms.

The Taft-Hartley law, under which this first case of its kind against a union is being heard, makes the closed shop illegal.

Kearns Fails to Solve Hollywood Labor Dispute

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 21 (P)—The single-handed efforts of Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) to end the 13-months movie strike ended in failure tonight.

"I'd say that the peace outlook isn't entirely hopeless, but if they can't get together, they can't get together, and that's all there is to it," Kearns told newsmen as he emerged from the second day's conference with Hollywood labor leaders.

Kearns had met for two hours with Maurice A. Hutcheson, vice-president of the AFL-Carpenters' union, whose studio members constitute the nucleus of the long and costly strike. Then he met with Richard P. Walsh, president of the non-striking International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees.

The continuous flow of coal into the industries of Western Germany is regarded as essential to the speedy integration of the combined British and American occupation zones into U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's plan for European reconstruction.

A German spokesman said the surplus clothes, which will be dyed before they are distributed, will be allocated on a strict priority basis with workers in key industries getting preference. German refugees from Eastern Europe, this informant added, also will get priority.

Army medical supplies, it was said, also will be among the surplus property turned over to the economic administration for distribution throughout the two zones.

American authorities said they regarded the agreement as one of the most important since Britain and the United States started shipping 300,000 tons of food a month into Western Germany to keep the population from starving. The agreement was revealed following a meeting here of the economic ministers of the eight states of the British and American zones.

Optimists Hear Plea For Army Training

Lt. Col. R. J. O'Donnell, of the Frankford Arsenal, made a plea for universal military training before 20 members of the Pottstown Optimist club and their wives, meeting last night at the Elks home.

Col. O'Donnell stressed the necessity for universal training in a time of international stress, when the peace of the world is uncertain.

Following his talk, the officer, who was accompanied by M/Sgt. Frank E. Roberts, showed combat pictures of the U. S. Army in the South Pacific area.

British Laborites Wage Fight to Check Power of House of Lords in Parliament

LONDON, Oct. 21 (P)—Britain's Labor government began a battle today to curb the power of the hereditary house of lords and drew immediately from Conservative Leader Winston Churchill the charge "it is a deliberate act of Socialist aggression."

Atlee asserted the main feature of the legislation to curb the lords would be to limit their power to delay enactment of legislation to one year instead of the present two-year limit, and added "this is a wise precautionary measure."

The House of Commons can pass legislation over the lords objection but only by acting affirmatively at three successive sessions, a progress that takes two years.

So far the lords has not rejected any of the major labor government measures.

Meat Price Ceilings Discarded by Canada

OTTAWA, Oct. 21 (P)—The Canadian government tonight took another stride toward complete de-control, eliminating price ceilings on meat and meat products, oats, barley and screenings. Subsidies on grain used for livestock feeding will be discontinued.

The action, effective tomorrow, thus narrowed the field of restricted items to a handful of essentials such as rents, sugar, fats, oils, wheat, flaxseed and sunflower seed.

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 21 (P)—The public health ministry said tonight 561 Egyptians died of cholera during the 24-hour period which ended this morning.
